One Hundred Horses Perish in the Flames.

Two Firemen Killed and Several Others Injured.

Thrilling Scenes Enacted About the Burning Buildings.

TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION.

New York, Nov. 25.—One of the largest fires for some time past in this city, took place this morning.

Shortly before 7 o'clock, fire was discovered in the stable of the Eighth Avenue Horse Car Railroad, and notwithstanding that within five minutes after the discovery, fully forty streams of water were turned upon the blazing building, it was not until there was nothing further for the flames to feed upon, that the firemen obtained the mastery.

The stables were in a four story brick building fronting 200 feet on Eighth avenue and 400 feet on Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets. In the rear on the Ninth street side a

and mountains of old barrels, many thousands stacked to a height of forty feet. These were saved by the efforts of the firemen who from the beginning specially directed their efforts to this point to

PREVENT A GENERAL CONFLAGRATION.

among the tenement houses on Ninth avenue. Almost before the movement to save the stock in the stables could be made, the flames rose instantaneously from the windows on Fiftieth and Forty-ninth streets, and it became clear that the building was

DOOMED TO DESTRUCTION.

Cars stored on the ground floor were run out and saved. Horses stalled on the upper floors were untied and run down inclined planes to the ground. There were nearly 800, and the work of getting them out was one of great difficulty and danger. Blinded by the smoke and frightened by the flames, they kicked and reared, and over 100 had to be abandoned to destruction. Their

PITEOUS WHINNEYING

could be heard above the roar of flames. The three upper floors were one vast sheet of flames. Two brick buildings, one a liquor store and the other a restaurant, cut into the stable building on the corner, were saved. At this point in the stables an immense quantity of hay in bales was stored. When these caught fire the sudden bursting of the bars that bound the bales caused an explosion that shattered the side of the building, and threw the brick wall into the street. It fell with a crushing force upon the ladder upon which were Chief Campbell, fireman John Welch, of engine 8, and firemen Henry C. Mount and John Regan, of the same company. Each and all were

and a shout of horror went up from the spectators. Their comrades instantly fell to the work of rescue, and soon all were recovered, bruised, bleeding and insensible. Mount had his skull and leg fractured, and was also injured internally. He died an hour afterwards in the hospital. Regan had a leg broken, and was badly cut.

Chief Campbell and Foreman Welsh were painfully but not seriously hurt, and remained on duty.

Hardly had the firemen and spectators recovered from the excitement caused by the falling wall when it was rumored that a fireman had but a muster of companies later showed all the men present except those taken to the hospital. Soon afterwards the walls on Fiftieth street fell with a crash. The flames leaped across the street, threatening the house there. The occupants fled, and a thief attempting to enter was nabbed and hustled off to the police station. The firemen gave their attention entirely now to the surrounding property, the stables being a mass of ruins. By 10 o'clock all danger of the spread of the fire was over, and a number of engines were sent to their quarters. Others remain pouring water upon the dying flames.

THE LOSS

is estimated at $250,000; insurance $275,000.

One Hundred Horses Perish in the Flames.

Two Firemen Killed and Several Others Injured.

Thrilling Scenes Enacted About the Burning Buildings.

TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION.

New York, Nov. 25.—One of the largest fires for some time past in this city, took place this morning.

Shortly before 7 o'clock, fire was discovered in the stable of the Eighth Avenue Horse Car Railroad, and notwithstanding that within five minutes after the discovery, fully forty streams of water were turned upon the blazing building, it was not until there was nothing further for the flames to feed upon, that the firemen obtained the mastery.

The stables were in a four story brick building fronting 200 feet on Eighth avenue and 400 feet on Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets. In the rear on the Ninth street side a

and mountains of old barrels, many thousands stacked to a height of forty feet. These were saved by the efforts of the firemen who from the beginning specially directed their efforts to this point to

among the tenement houses on Ninth avenue. Almost before the movement to save the stock in the stables could be made, the flames rose instantaneously from the windows on Fiftieth and Forty-ninth streets, and it became clear that the building was

DOOMED TO DESTRUCTION.

Cars stored on the ground floor were run out and saved. Horses stalled on the upper floors were untied and run down inclined planes to the ground. There were nearly 800, and the work of getting them out was one of great difficulty and danger. Blinded by the smoke and frightened by the flames, they kicked and reared, and over 100 had to be abandoned to destruction. Their

PITEOUS WHINNERING

could be heard above the roar of flames. The three upper floors were one vast sheet of flames. Two brick buildings, one a liquor store and the other a restaurant, cut into the stable building on the corner, were saved. At this point in the stables an immense quantity of hay in bales was stored. When these caught fire the sudden bursting of the bars that bound the bales caused an explosion that shattered the side of the building, and threw the brick wall into the street. It fell with a crushing force upon the ladder upon which were Chief Campbell, fireman John Welch, of engine 8, and firemen Henry C. Mount and John Regan, of the same company. Each and all were

and a shout of horror went up from the spectators. Their comrades instantly fell to the work of rescue, and soon all were recovered, bruised, bleeding and insensible. Mount had his skull and leg fractured, and was also injured internally. He died an hour afterwards in the hospital. Regan had a leg broken, and was badly cut.

Chief Campbell and Foreman Welsh were painfully but not seriously hurt, and remained on duty.

Hardly had the firemen and spectators recovered from the excitement caused by the falling wall when it was rumored that a fireman had

but a muster of companies later showed all the men present except those taken to the hospital. Soon afterwards the walls on Fiftieth street fell with a crash. The flames leaped across the street, threatening the house there. The occupants fled, and a thief attempting to enter was nabbed and hustled off to the police station. The firemen gave their attention entirely now to the surrounding property, the stables being a mass of ruins. By 10 o'clock all danger of the spread of the fire was over, and a number of engines were sent to their quarters. Others remain pouring water upon the dying flames.

is estimated at $250,090; insurance $275,000.

IN THE DAILY SENTINEL.

THE HOUSE WHICH PARADES

its devotion to the interests of its customers, flaunts a flimsy lie and a stupid insult in the face of its more intelligent readers; but the house whose sleepless, alert and quick witted buyers follows the shadow of the doomed and tottering concern with the eloquent and sterling cash, who watch with the unmeasured zeal the factory whose busy wheels are about to stop. Buyers who know that all depends upon the unerring skill in smashing down gigantic controlling monopolies. Men who know their purchases must beat every competitor. A duty you owe yourself and family is to listen to no man's story, because it takes so little time to ascertain the honest truth. We are a house who solicit your attention, not through favor or pretense, but by virtue of unanswerable argument, by right of placing before you the best value for the least money.

George Graham Ready for the Penitentiary Again.

He Forges a Check on the Hamilton National Bank.

George Graham, the well-known constable and thief, who had the nerve to sue the SENTINEL for $2,000 libel, is in trouble again. Yesterday he forged a check on the Hamilton National Bank for $27.35, signing thereto the name of Shurick & Olds. He presented the check to Capt J. B. White, who but Graham told him that he saw John Shurick write the check, and the captain cashed it. When the check was presented at the bank it was thrown out. Graham is missing.

It is feared that this fellow, in his capacity as constable, had recently been paid $72 by Shurick & Olds in checks, which he had endeavored to imitate. This money he had thus far failed to pay over to the proper parties. Graham was seen last night on Barr street wearing the very overcoat which he took from A. C. Remmel last summer to which was in his hands.

Graham is said to be considerably behind with his constable's fees. C. M. Dawson is after him for $18 which he collected and appropriated.

When this sweet scented scoundrel is apprehended he will doubtless be railroaded to the penitentiary where he has already passed five years of his life.

AMUSEMENTS.

H. M. S. PINAFORE.

One of the most remarkable and enjoyable entertainments ever given in Fort Wayne was that presented at the Academy last evening by Ford's Original Miniature Comic Opera Company. The audience was not large, probably from the fact that our amusement patrons have been surfeited with "Pinafore," and half expected that the children would "butcher" the charming little opera. But such was not the case. On the contrary, it was the verdict of the delighted and enthusiastic audience that "Pinafore" has never been so well sung or acted in this city. Space will not permit a detailed notice, but reference must be made to a few of the leading characters. Miss LillieParslow, only seven years old was perfectly charming as Josephine. She has a fine voice, handles it well and is a perfect little actress. Melissa Walters (8 years old) was a complete success as Buttercup, and was repeatedly and heartily cheered. Lillie Bailey, a sweet, tiny specimen of humanity, was delightful as Cousin Hebe. Master John Smith as Capt. Corcoran, and Master Willie Smith, his brother, as Sir Joseph Porter, were simply perfection. Master Richard Cuverdale made a capital Dick Deadeye, and Master Charles Minchin, as Ralph Rackstraw, was really superb. E. W. Baker as the Boatswain, acquitted himself admirably. The Guard produced much merriment. The chorus was very fine, and in fact the entire entertainment was beyond criticism.

This afternoon there is a matinee with "Pinafore" as the attraction. To-night this remarkable company will make its last appearance in Fort Wayne, when Suppe's celebrated comic opera of "Fatinitza," will be presented for the first time in Fort Wayne. If the Academy is not crowded it will show that Fort Wayne does not appreciate real merit.

The following is an outline of the plot of this delightful opera:

A young Russian officer named Vladimir, while masquerading in a woman's clothes as Fatinitza, meets his major general, who falls deeply in love with him, while Vladimir is at the same time in love with Princess Lydia, Gen. Kantchucoff's niece. Fortunately, Vladimir gets off without being detected in the hoax he has put upon the general, and resumes his command. Some time afterwards, while Vladimir and some brother officers are having a little fun in the shape of some private theatricals, Vladimir, taking the part of leading lady, they are surprised by Kantchuchoff, who at once recognizes his lost love Fatinitza, and again makes violent love to her, but while engaged in this a troupe of Bashi Bazotks surprise the camp, and carrying off Vladimir, thinking that he is a girl, and Lydia, his sweetheart, Julian Hardy, a reporter, accompanying them, and the three are taken to the pasha's palace. They are recaptured soon, however, and Julian Hardy tells Gen. Kantchucoff that Fatinitza had died from grief at the separation from him, and has left her brother Vladimir with a request that he marry the Princess Lydia. The old general consents for the sake of his first love, and the piece ends happily.

Seats can be secured at Fowler's.

THE COUNCIL.

An Important Meeting Held Last Evening.

The Contract for the Holly Engines Ratified.

Facts and Arguments on one Side; Votes on the Other.

General Water Works Business Transacted.

The city council met last night in adjourned session with his honor the mayor in the chair and all the councilmen present excepting Jno. Mohr.

The mayor stated the object of the meeting as being for the sole purpose of dismissing matters appertaining to water works.

The trustees reported that they would present estimates, which they hoped the council would provide for at once. The report was referred to the Committe on finance.

The following estimates were then read:

Mohawk and Hudson Manufacturing Co.	$1,175 49
R D Wood, estimate No. 1, for pipes and pipe laying	3,822 23
Adam Miller, one month's salary as inspector	75 00
Rent of trust seat office	45 00
J D Cook, three months' salary	623 99
F T Zollars, clerk of the board of trustees	41 60

Councilman Holmes moved that the estimates be allowed.

Mr. Hettler asked that the city attorney be asked for his opinion as to whether the council or the trustees should allow the estimates.

The city attorney reported that the trustees could only draw warrants on the fund after the works are completed, or upon funds deposited by them in the hands of the treasurer.

The estimates were then allowed by a unanimous vote.

The committee on water works reported that $24,000 in 5 percent bonds would be the least the Hamilton heirs would take for the proposed site of water works on their property. Also recommended the approval of F. T. Zollars as clerk of the water works trustees, but that he should be qualified and required to give bonds. The report was concurred in.

They further reported on pumping engines, that the Holly bid was the lowest, and in their opinion should be accepted.

Councilman Reese moved to concur in the report.

Councilman McKean amended to receive and file.

The reading of Cook's report was called for and the report was read, setting forth at length the relative merits of the several engines.

Councilman McKean could see nothing new in the report. There was no record furnished of the Holly engine further than Mr. Cook had seen the engine run and it worked very nicely. He (McKean) knew what the record of the engine was until within a few years, but he would like to hear its record of a later date.

Councilman Hettler said that the report did give the record and tests of the engine in his figures in the report just read, and it devolved upon some one now to give a better record of some other engine, and a motion now to file the report of the committee on water works showed a tendency to postpone the matter still farther, and the speaker was certain that if this contract was rejected not another such contract within $6,000 or $7,000 could be made in the future, and he believed that the trustees had investigated the matter properly and were working for the best interests of the city.

Councilman McKean insisted that J. D. Cook's figures were only theoretical and no test figures were furnished at all. A Holly engine was thrown out of the works at Hyde Park about six months ago.

Trustee McCulloch interrupted by saying that he saw the Holly engine work at Hyde Park this fall.

Mr. McKean read a communication from the superintendent of the water works at Peoria, terming the Holly engine a pile of old iron and characterizing it as worthless.

Mr. Hettler stated that Mr. McKean was speaking of rotary engines, which were condemned by Mr. Holly himself.

Mr. McKean denied the statement and said that he was speaking of four-cylinder engines, such as were proposed for this place. At Dayton they have the Holly engine which costs nearly $10,000 yearly to pump 1,000,000 gallons per day. At Evansville it costs $15,000 per annum. All the speaker wants is that when the city buys an engine, they buy a good one and one which will do duty.

The amendment to file was lost and the original motion to concur was put and carried.

Ayes—Hamilton, Hettler, Holmes, McCulloch, Reese, Reidmiller, Ryan and Vordermark.

Nays—Bash, Fox, Lillie, McKean, Muhler, Welch and Wilkinson.

The city attorney reported ordinances for the issue of bonds for the purchase of the Hamilton property, and on the matter of regulating the drawing of warrants by the trustees as stated above. The report was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances and city attorney.

The report of J. D. Cook was received and placed on record.

An ordinance for the purchase of the Hamilton property for a reservoir site at the price named being $24,000 payable in five percent bonds due in ten and twenty years was read the first time and passed to its second reading after which it was referred to the city attorney to report at once.

Another ordinance providing for the issue of bonds for the construction of water works was read the first time and referred to Messrs. Muhler, McCulloch and Bush as special committee.

The following resolution was read: Resolved, That the contract and bond of the Holly Company, of Lockport, N. Y., for two engines for water works be and the same are hereby approved and confirmed in conformity with the report of the trustees of water works, made to this council.

Councilman Bush moved for its adoption which was seconded by Councilman Reese.

Councilman McKean arose and objected very strongly to the adoption of the resolution, and intimated that J. D. Cook would not have reported as he did; had he been let alone. He urged that the council should do with the people's money as they would do with their own money. He said there were other points in Cook's report which were failures, the water supply was a failure as the report itself admitted by making a provision for tapping the St. Joe River when the wells gave out, and he thought that Bass, Simons & Co.'s proposition was the best for the city, and the canal water was the best that could be had but there was too much personal spite to speak of that plan successfully. Prof. Chandler, of New York, rather condemned the St. Joe River water; and he, the speaker, was certain that the railroad companies would not use well water under any consideration, and right there one large source of revenue would be lost. If the works can be run cheaper by using water power the council should certainly be willing to entertain that plan; the council should economize, and there is a saving in the original outlay of over $6,000 in favor of water power, and he defied Mr. Cook or anyone else to show a city where the actual cost of steam power was as low as represented by Cook's report. Practice and experience has shown that it will cost about $10,000 to pump 1,000,000 gallons, while by water power it would cost only about $4,000.

Councilman Hettler denied the charge made that Cook was bull-dozed into making his report to suit certain parties, and showed a letter from Indianapolis showing that wells were a success, and he denied that the question of supply or power was a matter of enmity; but he was afraid, on the other hand, the opposition were influenced by personal friendship, and as far as Bass, Simons & Co.'s proposition was concerned it was not legal. That contract had never been advertised for, and it could not be legal unless advertised for.

The council must either accept or reject the contract now before them.

The speaker acknowledged that water power would be cheaper if the power was reliable, if it was a living stream, but who could give security that the dam will be where it is to-morrow morning. The source of water power is entirely unreliable.

Councilman Muhler stated that Bass, Simons & Co. made three propositions, and that the question of power was a decided saving to the people, as they offered to furnish the water for pumping 3,000,000 gallons for $1,500, while by steam the cost would be not less than $10,000.

The people of this city don't know and don't understand this question properly, but the time will come when they will understand it, and will see that the council are to-night trying to foist upon the people an outrageous swindle.

Councilman Bash said that the question to-night was whether to accept or reject the contract of the Holly company.

Councilman Hettler stated that the canal was impracticable; no one knew who the canal belonged to, and the United States judiciary committee is investigating the matter, as the attorney general has reported that the contract of the canal company has been violated, and the city would be in danger of being made a party to the suit should one be instituted. Besides the City mills, Orff's mill and the woolen mill have already leased the canal, and the city would have to take the fourth chance in the matter.

Councilman Muhler read and explained the proposition of the cana company, but did not object to one or two engines, but he did not believe that the engine recommended was a good one.

Councilman McKean said that the title of the feeder canal was not to be questioned, also that the canal would be deepened to meet all demands. All the power required to pump the city's water would not exceed fifty horse power. He further favored a contract with the canal company to do everything, hire men and all, and thus the city would run no risk whatever.

Councilman Hamilton said that he did not personally know enough as to which was the best plan and he must be governed either by the opinion of the engineer or the opinion of Bass, Simons & Co., and for his part he felt obliged to be governed by the opinion of Engineer Cook.

Councilman McKean made a motion to refer the matter to J. D. Cook for him to report on the advisability of the use of steam or water power which was seconded by Councilman Wilkinson.

Councilman Bash objected to referring it back to the engineer as he had already reported at length on this subject.

Councilman Chittenden said he did not think any emergency existed for the immediate confirmation of the engine contract.

Councilman McKean pledged himself to vote according to Cook's report if it was so referred.

Trustee McCulloch said that Mr. Cook had said that engines were necessary.

The vote upon the amendment was then taken and was lost:

Yeas—Fox, Lillie, McKean, Muhler and Wilkinson.

Nays—Chittenden, Bash, Hamilton, Hettler, Holmes, McCulloch, Reese, Reidmiller, Ryan, Vordermark and Welch.

The original motion for the ratification of the contract for the Holly engines was then put and adopted.

Yeas—Bash, Chittenden, Hamilton, Hettler, Holmes, McCulloch, Reese, Riedmiller, Ryan Vordermark and Welch.

Nays—Fox, Lillie, McKean, Muhler and Wilkinson.

The city attorney reported that the ordinance for the purchase of the Hamilton property was in all things regular and correct and the ordinance was read the third time and was passed.

On motion the contract and bond of Moellering & Paul for the building of engine and pump houses was approved.

The contract and bond of J. W. Langohr for the building of the reservoir was referred back until to-night.

A resolution empowering the finance committee to negotiate $100,000 worth of bonds was adopted.

A resolution that the report of J. D. Cook and the proposition of Bass, Simons & Co. be placed on record was referred to the city attorney.

A resolution instructing the finance committee and the treasurer to negotiate a temporary loan of $15,000 to meet pressing demands, the same to be replaced from the water works funds, was adopted.

Adjourned.

WAS IT ABORTION?

A Case Which Looks Remarkably Like It.

Arrest of a Physician and His Wife Charged With Murder.

Sheriff Munson on last evening made an important arrest in the persons of Dr. Allen Moore and his wife, students in the Fort Wayne Medical College, who are

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

It seems that some time last summer the doctor was called upon to attend a young lady in Plymouth, and the charge is made that the doctor and his wife killed her by malpractice and neglect.

Everyone connected with the case is reticent in regard to the details, but it is generally thought that it is a case of

ABORTION.

The "doctor" says that he has been expecting the arrest for some time. He says also that when he was first called to see the girl he administered medicine which relieved her, but on his second visit he found she could not live, and informed her of the fact. He feels quite confident of being able to clear himself and wife.

Dr. Moore is but little known in the city as he only came here from Plymouth about four weeks since.

LEFT FOR PLYMOUTH.

It is intimated that some

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS

will appear in a few days and perhaps the doctor and his wife will not get out of the scrape so easily as they seem to think they will.

"Fatinitza."

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I hope the music-loving people of Fort Wayne will not miss the rare opportunity of hearing "Fatinitza" to-night at the Academy. Those who do will miss one of the finest entertainments that has been, or without doubt will be given in Fort Wayne this season. Next to "Pinafore," "Fatinitza" is the most popular opera that has been written in years. Franz Von Suppe is one of the most brilliant composers of the present time. His delightful overture of "Poet and Peasant," is known all over the world, and alone would have made for Von Suppe immortal fame, but with "Fatinitza" he has added another bright jewell to his crowd. The opera is a Russian military scene, and will give as good an idea of the Russian army as "Pinafore" does of the English navy. The opera is much more difficult than "Pinafore," but that the children are equal to the task the delighted audience who heard "Pinafore" last night can fully testify. Yours,

W.

In his meanderings to-day, our worthy reporter happened to drop into the popular tailoring parlors of A. Foster, No. 80 Calhoun street. The Sleeping Fox Catches No Poultry.

In this high-pressure age it is only the wide awake hard-working merchant who can distance his competitor and win the prize of a large and profitable business.

The times were never so hard that we found nothing better to do than to stand on the street corners and eloquently prate of the country going to the "demnition bow-wows."

When the policy of contraction contracted business, we willingly consented to sober off with the rest of the country, took a little seltzer water to relieve the headache, and then buckled in all the harder, determined to expand our business by a reduction of profits more rapidly than it could be contracted by the reduction of values.

The business boom found us prepared to reap the harvest of returning prosperity, and to share it with a larger company of customers than ever before. By our department system we have been enabled to lower our prices beyond the possibility of successful competition on the part of merchants compelled to pay their heavy expenses from the profits of one kind of business.

It has always been our custom to warn our patrons of any serious advance in prices about to take place. We tell them now, that there is scarcely an article in Dry Goods, Carpets, Furnitnee, etc., in our house to-day, which will not cost them from 10 to 20 percent more if they delay buying even a short time.

Recently we sold some of our friends fine seal skin sacques at $50 each less than they could buy them of the largest houses in the largest cities. It will please them to know that this morning's mail brings us word that Seal Skin Sacques have advanced at wholesale to a figure higher than we sold them at retail.

Two persons wanted one of our side boards. Price was $50. One comes and says he will take it. Shortly after the other comes and says he will take it. "But its sold," we tell him. "Well, order me one just like it." "Yes, we will do it with pleasure," we reply, "but the price will have to be $55, and even at that our profit is smaller than on the one just sold."

The moral of all we have said is, make all purchases at as early a day as possible and make them of

George Graham Ready for the Penitentiary Again.

He Forges a Check on the Hamilton National Bank.

George Graham, the well-known constable and thief, who had the nerve to sue the SENTINEL for $2,000 libel, is in trouble again. Yesterday he forged a check on the Hamilton National Bank for $27.35, signing thereto the name of Shurick & Olds. He presented the check to Capt J. B. White, who but Graham told him that he saw John Shurick write the check, and the captain cashed it. When the check was presented at the bank it was thrown out. Graham is missing.

It is feared that this fellow, in his capacity as constable, had recently been paid $72 by Shurick & Olds in checks, which he had endeavored to imitate. This money he had thus far failed to pay over to the proper parties. Graham was seen last night on Barr street wearing the very overcoat which he took from A. C. Remmel last summer to which was in his hands.

Graham is said to be considerably behind with his constable's fees. C. M. Dawson is after him for $18 which he collected and appropriated.

When this sweet scented scoundrel is apprehended he will doubtless be railroaded to the penitentiary where he has already passed five years of his life.

AMUSEMENTS.

H. M. S. PINAFORE.

One of the most remarkable and enjoyable entertainments ever given in Fort Wayne was that presented at the Academy last evening by Ford's Original Miniature Comic Opera Company. The audience was not large, probably from the fact that our amusement patrons have been surfeited with "Pinafore," and half expected that the children would "butcher" the charming little opera. But such was not the case. On the contrary, it was the verdict of the delighted and enthusiastic audience that "Pinafore" has never been so well sung or acted in this city. Space will not permit a detailed notice, but reference must be made to a few of the leading characters. Miss Lillie Parslow, only seven years old was perfectly charming as Josephine. She has a fine voice, handles it well and is a perfect little actress. Melissa Walters (8 years old) was a complete success as Buttercup, and was repeatedly and heartily cheered. Lillie Bailey, a sweet, tiny specimen of humanity, was delightful as Cousin Hebe. Master John Smith as Capt. Corcoran, and Master Willie Smith, his brother, as Sir Joseph Porter, were simply perfection. Master Richard Coverdale made a capital Dick Deadeye, and Master Charles Minchin, as Ralph Rackstraw, was really superb. E. W. Baker as the Boatswain, acquitted himself admirably. The Guard produced much merriment. The chorus was very fine, and in fact the entire entertainment was beyond criticism.

This afternoon there is a matinee with "Pinafore" as the attraction. To-night this remarkable company will make its last appearance in Fort Wayne, when Suppe's celebrated comic opera of "Fatinitza," will be presented for the first time in Fort Wayne. If the Academy is not crowded it will show that Fort Wayne does not appreciate real merit.

The following is an outline of the plot of this delightful opera:

A young Russian officer named Vladimir, while masquerading in a woman's clothes as Fatinitza, meets his major general, who falls deeply in love with him, while Vladimir is at the same time in love with Princess Lydia, Gen. Kantchucoff's niece. Fortunately, Vladimir gets off without being detected in the hoax he has put upon the general, and resumes his command. Some time afterwards, while Vladimir and some brother officers are having a little fun in the shape of some private theatricals, Vladimir, taking the part of leading lady, they they are surprised by Kantchuchoff, who at once recognizes his lost love Fatinitza, and again makes violent leve to her, but while engaged in this a troupe of Bashi Bazotks surprise the camp, and carrying off Vadimir, thinking that he is a girl, and Lydia, his sweetheart, Julian Hardy, a reporter, accompanying them, and the three are taken to the pasha's palace. They are recaptured soon, however, and Julian Hardy tells Gen. Kantchucoff that Fatiniza had died from grief at the separation from him, and has left her brother Vladimir with a request that he marry the Princess Lydia. The old general consents for the sake of his first love, and the piece ends happily.

Seats can be secured at Fowler's.

THE COUNCIL.

An important Meeting Held Last Evening.

The Contract for the Holly Engines Ratified.

Facts and Arguments on one Side; Votes on the Other.

General Water Works Business Transacted.

The city council met last night in adjourned session with his honor the mayor in the chair and all the councilmen present excepting Jno. Mohr.

The mayor stated the object of the meeting as being for the sole purpose of discussing matters appertaining to water works.

The trustees reported that they would present estimates, which they hoped the council would provide for at once. The report was referred to the committe on finance.

The following estimates were then read:

Mohawk and Hudson Manufacturing Co.	$1,175 49
R D Wood, estimate No. 1, for pipes and pipe laying	8,322 28
Adam Miller, one month's salary as inspector	75 00
Rent of trustees' office	45 00
J D Cook, three months' salary	625 00
F T Zollars, clerk of the board of trustees	41 66

Councilman Holmes moved that the estimates be allowed.

Mr. Hettler asked that the city attorney be asked for his opinion as to whether the council or the trustees should allow the estimates.

The city attorney reported that the trustees could only draw warrants on the fund after the works are completed, or upon funds deposited by them in the hands of the treastirer.

The estimates were then allowed by a unanimous vote.

The committee on water works reported that $24,000 in 5 percent bonds would be the least the Hamilton heirs would take for the proposed site of water works on their property. Also recommended the approval of F. T. Zollars as clerk of the water works trustees, but that he should be qualified and required to give bonds. The report was concurred in.

They further reported on pumping engines, that the Holly bid was the lowest, and in their opinion should be accepted.

Councilman Reese moved to concur in the report.

Councilman McKean amended to receive and file.

The reading of Cook's report was called for and the report was read, setting forth at length the relative merits of the several engines.

Councilman McKean could see nothing new in the report. There was no record furnished of the Holly engine further than Mr. Cook had seen the engine run and it worked very nicely. He (McKean) knew what the record of the engine was until within a few years, but he would like to hear its record of a later date.

Councilman Hettler said that the report did give the record and tests of the engine in his figures in the report just read, and it devolved upon some one now to give a better record of some other engine, and a motion now to file the report of the committee on water works showed a tendency to postpone the matter still farther, and the speaker was certain that if this contract was rejected not another such contract within $6,000 or $7,000 could be made in the future, and he believed that the trustees had investigated the matter properly and were working for the best interests of the city.

Councilman McKean insisted that J. D. Cook's figures were only theoretical and no test figures were furnished at all. A Holly engine was thrown out of the works at Hyde Park about six months ago.

Trustee McCulloch interrupted by saying that he saw the Holly engine work at Hyde Park this fall.

Mr. McKean read a communication from the superintendent of the water works at Peoria, terming the Holly engine a pile of old iron and characterizing it as worthless.

Mr. Hettler stated that Mr. McKean was speaking of rotary engines, which were condemned by Mr. Holly himself.

Mr. McKean denied the statement and said that he was speaking of four-cylinder engines, such as were proposed for this place. At Dayton they have the Holly engine which costs nearly $10,000 yearly to pump 1,000,000 gallons per day. At Evansville it costs $15,600 per annum. All the speaker wants is that when the city buys an engine, they buy a good one and one which will do duty.

The amendment to file was lost and the original motion to concur was put and carried.

Ayes—Hamilton, Hettler, Holmes, McCulloch, Reese, Reidmiller, Ryan and Vordermark.

Nays—Bash, Fox, Lillie, McKean, Muhler, Welch and Wilkinson.

The city attorney reported ordinances for the issue of bonds for the purchase of the Hamilton property, and on the matter of regulating the drawing of warrants by the trustees as stated above. The report was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances and city attorney.

The report of J. D. Cook was received and placed on record.

An ordinance for the purchase of the Hamilton property for a reservoir site at the price named being $24,000 payable in five percent bonds due in ten and twenty years was read the first time and passed to ite second reading after which it was referred to the city attorney to report at once.

Another ordinance providing for the issue of bonds for the construction of water works was read the first time and referred to Messrs. Muhler, McCulloch and Bush as special committee.

The following resolution was read:

Resolved, That the contract and bond of the Holly Company, of Lockport, N. Y., for two engines for water works be and the same are hereby approved and confirmed in conformity with the report of the trustees of water works, made to this council.

Councilman Bash moved for its adoption which was seconded by Councilman Reese.

Councilman McKean arose and objected very strongly to the adoption of the resolution, and intimated that J. D. Cook would not have reported as he did, had he been let alone. He urged that the council should do with the people's money as they would do with their own money. He said there were other points in Cook's report which were failures, the water supply was a failure as the report itself admitted by making a provision for tapping the St. Joe River when the wells gave out, and he thought that Bass, Simons & Co.'s proposition was the best for the city, and the canal water was the best that could be had but there was too much personal spite to speak of that plan successfully. Prof. Chandler, of New York, rather condemned the St. Joe River water; and he, the speaker, was certain that the railroad companies would not use well water under any consideration, and right there one large source of revenue would be lost. If the works can be run cheaper by using water power the council should certainly be willing to entertain that plan; the council should economize, and there is a saving in the original outlay of over $6,000 in favor of water power, and he defied Mr. Cook or anyone else to show a city where the actual cost of steam power was as low as represented by Cook's report. Practice and experience has shown that it will cost about $10,000 to pump 1,000,000 gallons, while by water power it would cost only about $4,000.

Councilman Hettler denied the charge made that Cook was bull-dozed into making his report to suit certain parties, and showed a letter from Indianapolis showing that wells were a success, and he denied that the question of supply or power was a matter of enmity; but he was afraid, on the other hand, the opposition were influenced by personal friendship, and as far as Bass, Simons & Co.'s proposition was concerned it was not legal. That contract had never been advertised for, and it could not be legal unless advertised for.

The council must either accept or reject the contract now before them.

The speaker acknowledged that water power would be cheaper if the power was reliable, if it was a living stream, but who could give security that the dam will be where it is to-morrow morning. The source of water power is entirely unreliable.

Councilman Muhler stated that Bass, Simons & Co. made three propositions, and that the question of power was a decided saving to the people, as they offered to furnish the water for pumping 3,000,000 gallons for $1,500, while by steam the cost would be not less than $10,000.

The people of this city don't know and don't understand this question properly, but the time will come when they will understand it, and will see that the council are to-night trying to foist upon the people an outrageous swindle.

Councilman Bash said that the question to-night was whether to accept or reject the contract of the Holly company.

Councilman Hettler stated that the canal was impracticable; no one knew who the canal belonged to, and the United States judiciary committee is investigating the matter, as the attorney general has reported that the contract of the canal company has been violated, and the city would be in danger of being made a party to the suit should one be instituted. Besides the City mills, Orff's mill and the woolen mill have already leased the canal, and the city would have to take the fourth chance in the matter.

Councilman Muhler read and explained the proposition of the cana company, but did not object to one or two engines, but he did not believe that the engine recommended was a good one.

Councilman McKean said that the title of the feeder canal was not to be questioned, also that the canal would be deepened to meet all demands. All the power required to pump the city's water would not exceed fifty horse power. He further favored a contract with the canal company to do everything, hire men and all, and thus the city would run no risk whatever.

Councilman Hamilton said that he did not personally know enough as to which was the best plan and he must be governed either by the opinion of the engineer or the opinion of Bass, Simons & Co., and for his part he felt obliged to be governed by the opinion of Engineer Cook.

Councilman McKean made a motion to refer the matter to J. D. Cook for him to report on the advisability of the use of steam or water power which was seconded by Councilman Wilkinson.

Councilman Bash objected to referring it back to the engineer as he had already reported at length on this subject.

Councilman Chittenden said he did not think any emergency existed for the immediate confirmation of the engine contract.

Councilman McKean pledged himself to vote according to Cook's report if it was so referred.

Trustee McCulloch said that Mr. Cook had said that engines were necessary.

The vote upon the amendment was then taken and was lost:

Yeas—Fox, Lillie, McKean, Muhler and Wilkinson.

Nays—Chittenden, Bash, Hamilton, Hettler, Holmes, McCulloch, Reese, Reidmiller, Ryan, Vordermark and Welch.

The original motion for the ratification of the contract for the Holly engines was then put and adopted.

Yeas—Bash, Chittenden, Hamilton, Hettler, Holmes, McCulloch, Reese, Riedmiller, Ryan Vordermark and Welch.

Nays—Fox, Lillie, McKean, Muhler and Wilkinson.

The city attorney reported that the ordinance for the purchase of the Hamilton property was in all things regular and correct and the ordinance was read the third time and was passed.

On motion the contract and bond of Moellering & Paul for the building of engine and pump houses was approved.

The contract and bond of J. W. Langohr for the building of the reservoir was referred back until to-night.

A resolution empowering the finance committee to negotiate $100,000 worth of bonds was adopted.

A resolution that the report of J. D. Cook and the proposition of Bass, Simons & Co. be placed on record was referred to the city attorney.

A resolution instructing the finance committee and the treasurer to negotiate a temporary loan of $15,000 to meet pressing demands, the same to be replaced from the water works funds, was adopted.

Adjourned.

WAS IT ABORTION?

A Case Which Looks Remarkably Like It.

Arrest of a Physician and His Wife Charged With Murder.

Sheriff Munson on last evening made an important arrest in the persons of Dr. Allen Moore and his wife, students in the Fort Wayne Medical College, who are

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

It seems that some time last summer the doctor was called upon to attend a young lady in Plymouth, and the charge is made that the doctor and his wife killed her by malpractice and neglect.

Everyone connected with the case is reticent in regard to the details, but it is generally thought that it is a case of

ABORTION.

The "doctor" says that he has been expecting the arrest for some time. He says also that when he was first called to see the girl he administered medicine which relieved her, but on his second visit he found she could not live, and informed her of the fact. He feels quite confident of being able to clear himself and wife.

Dr. Moore is but little known in the city as he only came here from Plymouth about four weeks since.

LEFT FOR PLYMOUTH.

It is intimated that some

will appear in a few days and perhaps the doctor and his wife will not get out of the scrape so easily as they seem to think they will.

"Fatinitza."

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I hope the music-loving people of Fort Wayne will not miss the rare opportunity of hearing "Fatinitza" to-night at the Academy. Those who do will miss one of the finest entertainments that has been, or without doubt will be given in Fort Wayne this season. Next to "Pinafore," "Fatinitza" is the most popular opera that has been written in years. Franz Von Suppe is one of the most brilliant composers of the present time. His delightful overture of "Poet and Peasant," is known all over the world, and alone would have made for Von Suppe immortal fame, but with "Fatinitza" he has added another bright jewell to his crowd. The opera is a Russian military scene, and will give as good an idea of the Russian army as "Pinafore" does of the English navy. The opera is much more difficult than "Pinafore," but that the children are equal to the task the delighted audience who heard "Pinafore" last night can fully testify. Yours,

W.

In his meanderings to-day, our worthy reporter happened to drop into the popular tailoring parlors of A. Foster, No. 80 Calhoun street. Here the reportorial optics were met on all sides by a bewildering array of fancy fall suitings. It would be impossible to convey to our readers any idea of the endless variety of fancy piece goods found here. Suffice it to say that A. Foster has the finest stock in the city and enjoys a deserved popularity on account of his matchless fits. We would advise our readers to call and see him. 9,17

The Sleeping Fox Catches No Poultry.

In this high-pressure age it is only the wide awake hard-working merchant who can distance his competitor and win the prize of a large and profitable business.

The times were never so hard that we found nothing better to do than to stand on the street corners and eloquently prate of the country going to the "demnition bow-wows."

When the policy of contraction contracted business, we willingly consented to sober off with the rest of the country, took a little seltzer water to relieve the headache, and then buckled in all the harder, determined to expand our business by a reduction of profits more rapidly than it could be contracted by the reduction of values.

The business boom found us prepared to reap the harvest of returning prosperity, and to share it with a larger company of customers than ever before. By our department system we have been enabled to lower our prices beyond the possibility of successful competition on the part of merchants compelled to pay their heavy expenses from the profits of one kind of business.

It has always been our custom to warn our patrons of any serious advance in prices about to take place. We tell them now, that there is scarcely an article in Dry Goods, Carpets, Furnituee, etc., in our house to-day, which will not cost them from 10 to 20 percent more if they delay buying even a short time.

Recently we sold some of our friends fine seal skin sacques at $50 each less than they could buy them of the largest houses in the largest cities. It will please them to know that this morning's mail brings us word that Seal Skin Sacques have advanced at wholesale to a figure higher than we sold them at retail.

Two persons wanted one of our side boards. Price was $50. One comes and says he will take it. Shortly after the other comes and says he will take it. "But its sold," we tell him. "Well, order me one just like it." "Yes, we will do it with pleasure," we reply, "but the price will have to be $55, and even at that our profit is smaller than on the one just sold."

The moral of all we have said is, make all purchases at as early a day as possible and make them of
